2016 Twilight Chamber Music at Rippon Lea

Songs without Words

with Marina Marsden (violin) and Justine Marsden (viola) - sisters from the Sydney Symphony Orchestra - and Robert Chamberlain (piano).

A selection of Mendelssohn's Songs without Words - in both original piano versions and arrangements for the stringed instruments plus piano – inspire this recital. They frame the Trio Suite by German Romantic composer Koessler, a passionate arrangement of Glinka's Three Russian Songs and Mozart's delightful Duo in G for violin and viola. Finally a touch of tango, featuring the mellow tones of the viola in Piazzolla's Oblivion and Gade's famous Jealousy, with its flaunting violin virtuosity.
